

Quality Workforce

East Central Missouri Has It and Can Prove It!

Labor quality is an important consideration in the site selection process. An area's workforce and its skills will ultimately determine your company's ability to respond to competitive opportunities and contribute to the "bottom line."

With this in mind, AmerenUE, along with development representatives from the county, commissioned an independent survey of local business managers to determine the labor quality of East Central Missouri. Some of the results of this survey are contained in this brochure.
